When in doubt, trash it!

HEY FRIENDS!

Wow, October was fun! So many of my family and friends had birthdays. When is your birthday? Write to me and tell me all about everything! (see pg 6)

It's November now and my mom's birthday month! It's also the month of my favorite food holiday, THANKSGIVING! In my house, almost everything on the table is a once a year dish. What's your favorite dish? Mine is Italian spinach dressing! It's an old, Italian, Thanksgiving recipe that my family has passed down many generations. It's so yummy! I get to help pick the ingredients at the grocery, then prep the food and grate the cheese. I also help with dishes so we can relax. I think learning to cook is FUN! It's VERY important for children of all ages to learn about food and cooking. Parents and teachers, check out "Cooking Safety Rules for Kids". (pg 11) Throughout this issue, you'll find plenty of fun and colorful fall and Thanksgiving themed activities, easy to print on 8.5 x 11 paper.

Jabberblabber is now available to print for everyone, everywhere...and it's FREE thanks to the family-friendly SPONSORS you see throughout this E-Zine. As you scroll through, please remember to show your "appreciation" (see pg 19) the next time your family needs the services they offer. Just click anywhere on their logo and it will take you to their website. They're really nice, local people with families just like ours, and who share our mission: "Helping Children Live Healthy and Happy."

Say "THANK YOU" a LOT every day and watch how HAPPY it makes you feel! :-)

Happy Thanksgiving!

Peace and love,
Jabberblabber

Jabber mail

“Be My Pen Pal” (see page 5), is a popular and regular feature in Jabberblabber E-Zine. Children from all over the Mid-South write letters to Jabberblabber, and he writes EVERYONE back! This fun exercise helps children with letter writing, handwriting and communication skills and gives them an opportunity to send and receive mail through the United States Postal Service (USPS).

Dear Jabberblabber,
 This is what my costume is going to be Halloween...a cat witch.
 The reason I picked it was...I love cats and witches.
 My favorite candy is...Skittles and KitKats.
 I want to tell you about myself...I have 2 sisters and 1 brother. I'm 10.
 I like to ride my bike. My bff is Gracie.
 My question for you is...do you dress up for Halloween?
 Sincerely,
 Emma Alexander, Atoka, TN

Dear Jabberblabber,
 This is what my costume is going to be Halloween...Daniel Tiger.
 The reason I picked it was...he's my fave.
 My favorite candy is...Yum Yum Pops.
 I want to tell you about myself...I am 3 and a half and learning to read and write. My mom wrote this for me and dictated it while she pointed to the words. I was in her lap and followed along.
 My question for you is...are you a dinosaur?
 Sincerely,
 Ellis McMahan, Collierville, TN

Dear Jabberblabber,
 This is what my costume is going to be Halloween...a vampire.
 The reason I picked it was...vampires are cool.
 My favorite candy is...Reese's cups.
 I want to tell you about myself...I'm in 6th grade, I live in Memphis and I like to play basketball with my friends.
 My question for you is...are you a he, she, they or it?
 Sincerely,
 Brody, Memphis, TN

Dear Jabberblabber,
 This is what my costume is going to be Halloween...Mirabel Isabela Pepa
 The reason I picked it was...she's pretty and nice.
 My favorite candy is...Paleta Payaso. (clown lollipop)
 I want to tell you about myself...I'm 8 years old and I love to read.
 My question for you is...how old are you?
 Sincerely,
 Maria Ramirez, Bartlett, TN

BE MY GREEN PENPAL

Print out the next page, write to me and join my "GREEN LIKE ME" club. I'll write back and send you a sticker & club card with your name on it!

As a club member, you pledge to practice the "10 ways to be green like me" (below)!

10 WAYS YOU CAN BE GREEN LIKE ME!

- 1. Turn it up or down 2 degrees! Turn your heat down 2 degrees in the winter & your air conditioner up 2 degrees in the summer.
- 2. Turn it off! When you're the last one to leave the room, ALWAYS turn off the lights!
- 3. Unplug It! Reduce your home energy bill 10% by unplugging your cell phone charger, TV, stereo, and computer when you're not using them.
- 4. Say NO to plastic bags! Bring your own bag when you go shopping. Plastic is bad for land & animals!
- 5. Shop Locally! Support local farmers & local businesses who produce here at home.
- 6. Don't Idle! If you are going to be parked more than 10 seconds, turn it off! Idling cars produce 25% of all Co2 emissions.
- 7. Recycle! Cans, bottles, cardboard and plastic. Donate unwanted clothes, toys & furniture.
- 8. Reuse! Get a washable, reusable and refillable water bottle.
- 9. Conserve Water! Turn off the faucet while brushing your teeth and take a short shower rather than a bath.
- 10. Can it! Trash on the ground is unsightly & can end up in our rivers and oceans. Always throw trash in the trash can.

WHY WE DON'T USE STYROFOAM!

Styrofoam appears to last forever, as it is resistant to photolysis (the breaking down of materials by photons originating from a light source). This, combined with the fact that Styrofoam is lightweight and therefore floats, means that over time, a great deal of polystyrene has accumulated along coasts and waterways around the world. It is now considered the main component of marine debris.

When Styrofoam containers are used for food, chemicals can leach into the food, affecting human health and the reproductive system. This is accentuated if people reheat the food while still in the container.

Cooking Safety Rules for Kids by Ashley Kim

A registered dietitian shares helpful tips for cooking with kids in the kitchen

When you involve children in the cooking process, they not only become familiar with different foods and how to cook them, they also learn age-appropriate developmental skills. “Incorporating cooking activities at a young age gives children exposure to a variety of foods and supports a healthy relationship with food,” says Ashley Kim, a registered dietitian with the Get up & Go program by Children’s Health. “Begin by teaching your children to measure and mix ingredients as well as tackle basic tasks like washing produce.”

Ashley shares ways to get children involved in preparing family meals while keeping kitchen safety top of mind.

Cooking tips for kids in the kitchen

Here are some age-appropriate tasks to get children of all ages involved in the kitchen:

Preschool (2 to 5 years)

- Stirring
- Rinsing fruits and vegetables
- Snapping green beans
- Measuring ingredients
- Mashing soft foods
- Cutting with a blunt knife

Early elementary (6 to 8 years)

- Grating cheese
- Forming cookies and patties
- Peeling onions and garlic
- Breaking eggs
- Kneading dough
- Light chopping with round-end steak knife

Preteens (9 to 12 years)

- Planning and preparing basic lunches, meals and snacks
- Cooking soup
- Using a food processor
- Using a chef’s knife
- Putting foods in the oven and removing them
- Baking quick breads and muffins

Teenagers (13 to 16 years)

- Using all kitchen appliances, including outdoor grills
- Developing knife skills to chop, dice and mince
- Driving to the store and buying groceries
- Marinating foods
- Sautéing and pan-frying foods

Kitchen safety tips for children

Remember to discuss safety rules in the kitchen before any of these other skills are taught. Teach your children how to wash their hands before handling foods and explain ways to avoid cross-contamination from raw meats. Help them implement safe knife-handling skills and how to navigate hot surfaces. Always supervise young children in the kitchen, and establish a rule to ask permission before cooking in the kitchen.

NOVEMBER TOPIC: COVID vaccine boosters

By Gerard J. Billmeier, Jr., M.D., FAAP

Children ages 5-11 years are now eligible for a bivalent COVID-19 vaccine booster.

Leaders of the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) and Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) signed off on the updated boosters for children today. The AAP supports administration of all COVID vaccine primary series and booster doses recommended by the CDC.

The Pfizer-BioNTech bivalent booster emergency use authorization that includes people 12 years and older has been expanded to include children ages 5-11 years. The Moderna bivalent booster authorization for those 18 and older has been expanded to include children and adolescents ages 6-17 years.

“Since children have gone back to school in person and people are resuming pre-pandemic behaviors and activities, there is the potential for increased risk of exposure to the virus that causes COVID-19,” FDA Center for Biologics Evaluation and Research Director Peter Marks, M.D., Ph.D., said in a press release. “Vaccination remains the most effective measure to prevent the severe consequences of COVID-19, including hospitalization and death.”

He noted even mild COVID cases in children have the potential to cause long-term effects.

The bivalent boosters were created to combat a possible fall/winter virus surge and contain both the original SARS-CoV-2 strain and the omicron BA.4/5 spike protein. About 79% of the circulating strains are BA.5, and the rest are other omicron variants, according to the CDC.

Children as young as 5 years who have completed a primary series are eligible for a single bivalent booster two months after previous doses. About 61% of adolescents ages 12-17 years and 32% of children 5-11 years have completed a primary series. Children can receive a bivalent booster with a different brand than their primary series.

The Pfizer-BioNTech bivalent booster dose for children ages 5-11 years is 10 micrograms (μg). Moderna’s bivalent booster dose is 50 μg for adolescents ages 12-17 years and 25 μg for children ages 6-11 years.

FDA authorization was based on immune response and safety data from clinical studies in adults of a bivalent booster containing the original SARS-CoV-2 strain and an omicron BA.1 strain. Officials also considered data from clinical studies on monovalent boosters in children.

As with people ages 12 and older, monovalent boosters no longer are allowed for children ages 5-11 years now that a bivalent booster has been authorized.

Why do leaves change color in the Autumn?

Most of the spectacular colors of autumn have actually been in the leaves all summer, however they were “covered up” by the dominant green of the chlorophyll. As weather cools, and shorter days settle in, the chlorophyll begins to break down, revealing new and varied color pigments. The brightest colors are seen when late summer is dry, and autumn has bright sunny days and cool nights.

White Birch

GREEN - Chlorophyll

Chlorophyll is responsible for helping trees and plants turn sunlight into food. For most months, it is the dominant color seen in most leaves until it fades away. As many trees shut down their food production, they turn to stored sugars to survive the winter.

Swamp Chestnut Oak

RED - Anthocyanin

Unlike other leaf colors that always exist in the leaf, anthocyanins are produced as the chlorophyll is broken down. The anthocyanins are often seen in leaves named for their autumn splash of red including Red Maples, Scarlet Oaks, and Red Sumacs.

Sugar Maple

ORANGE - Carotene

Sugar Maples may be one of the best examples of carotene in action. Their bright signature orange fills many hills and country roads throughout the northern US. Sassafras leaves also turn a slightly more muted orange. As its name implies, Carotenes are also the chemical responsible for giving carrots their unique coloring.

Aspen

YELLOW - Xanthophyll

Xanthophyll can be seen throughout the fall in trees including beeches, ashes, birches, aspens, and some oaks. It also contributes its bright yellow color to autumn squash and corn.

Grandparent of the Month – Michael Gilbert

Michael Gilbert was born in Brooklyn, New York and moved to Kirby Pines from his previous home in Hendersonville, North Carolina. He has four children and seven grandchildren. His favorite thing about being a grandparent is sharing the joy they experience and watching them grow and mature.

Michael graduated from Northwestern University with a BA Degree. He received his MAT from Emory University and his Ed D from The University of Georgia. He was a professor at Central Michigan University for 15 years.

As an educator, he is proud of his research and the publishing of his writings on interpersonal communication. He was selected to the International Listening Association Hall of Fame and also named one of the top 25 Michigan professors.

The list of destinations Michael has traveled to include Scotland (his favorite), Japan, Austria, Hungary, Portugal, and 45 of the 50 United States.

Golf and photography are Michael’s favorite pastimes.

Congratulations Michael, for being Jabberblabber’s Grandparent of the Month!

Improve Air Quality by remembering the
"COOL 5"

5 cool ways to reduce ozone in Shelby County:

Share the Ride Carpool, use public transportation, bike, or even walk! It saves money and reduces pollution levels.

Link the Trips When driving, do all of your errands in a row instead of returning home in between. It saves money, gas, and reduces pollution.

Stop at the Click When refueling the gas tank in your car, do not top off after the click. It harms your car and increases pollution levels!

Don't Idle Your Car You can reduce pollution levels by avoiding drive-through lines and shutting your engine off if waiting for more than 30 seconds.

Mow When the Sun is Low Gasoline lawn mowers are much dirtier than automobiles. Mow after 6pm to reduce ozone levels in the summer.
