HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO ME!

Hi, in case you're reading this for the first time, I'm Jabberblabber, a friendly, "green", multi-species creature born and raised in Memphis, TN, USA. As you can see, I have very large eyes which give me reading superpowers and a big red tongue for jabbering and blabbering all day long. I love to dance, sing and read with my friends!

I'm an ageless cartoon character developed in March of 2001...23 years ago... by my "moms", Memphis artists, Theresa Andreuccetti and Nikki Schroeder. Best friends since college, they share a love for early childhood education and saw the need for more art and "green" education in our large, urban community's pre-school and elementary school curriculum. They wanted to give back by helping parents and educators fill those niches and developed Jabberblabber Family Magazine, a FREE activities newspaper for kids, providing education through entertainment. Jabberblabber Magazine was published as a 24 page hard copy for 20 years, providing over 7 million FREE copies to Mid-South children. Today, Jabberblabber has grown into a 30+ page digital E-zine with over 52,000 subscribers!

Since it's my birthday, I'm taking some friends to the Fire Museum for a party then down to Tom Lee park to shoot some hoops. My moms will make me some cupcakes and a special dinner of my favorite food...MAC N CHEESE! What will you do on your next birthday? Write to me and tell me all about it!

Jabberblabber E-zine is solely funded by sponsors, underwriters and advertisers who share our mission of "Helping all children live healthy and happy". They're the reason we're still publishing today! Please remember them the next time your family needs their services.

BE GREEN LIKE ME and remember to turn the lights off when you leave the room!

Peace and Love,
Jabberblabber

Jabberblabber is really looking forward to eating his green birthday cupcake! There's another one hidden in this magazine without candles. See if you can help him find it.

10 WAYS YOU CAN BE GREEN LIKE ME!

- 1. Turn it up or down 2 degrees! Turn your heat down 2 degrees in the winter & your air conditioner up 2 degrees in the summer.
- 2. Turn it off! When you're the last one to leave the room, ALWAYS turn off the lights!

While sugar makes food taste great, it can cause serious tooth decay. Bacteria, or sometimes called “sugar bugs,” love sugar just as much as we do! These bugs feed on sugar and produce plaque and acid, which jeopardizes the integrity of tooth enamel.

The Fascinating History of Birthday Celebrations: From Ancient Rituals to Modern Traditions

By Karmin Walker

Birthdays are a time-honored tradition celebrated by people all around the world. Whether it's blowing out candles on a cake, receiving gifts, or gathering with loved ones, birthdays hold a special place in our hearts. But have you ever wondered how this tradition came to be? Join us on a journey through time as we explore the captivating history of birthday celebrations.

Ancient Beginnings:

The concept of celebrating birthdays dates back thousands of years. In ancient civilizations such as Egypt, Greece, and Rome, birthdays were primarily reserved for gods and goddesses. These deities were honored with lavish feasts, rituals, and offerings. It was believed that on their birthdays, they would bestow blessings upon their followers.

The Greeks:

The Greeks played a significant role in shaping the way we celebrate birthdays today. They were the first to celebrate the birthdays of ordinary individuals, not just gods. They believed that each person had a protective spirit or "genius" that would visit them on their birthday, bringing good fortune. To honor this spirit, they would offer prayers, make offerings, and share a celebratory meal with friends and family.

Roman Influence:

The Romans, known for their grand celebrations, added their own touch to birthday festivities. They introduced the concept of celebrating the birthdays of family and friends. The wealthy would host extravagant parties, complete with feasts, entertainment, and games. It was during this time that the tradition of giving gifts on birthdays began to emerge.

Modern Traditions:

The modern birthday celebration as we know it today began to take shape during the 18th and 19th centuries. The Industrial Revolution brought about changes in society, making birthdays more accessible to the masses. The emergence of the middle class allowed for the celebration of birthdays beyond the aristocracy.

In the early 19th century, Germany introduced the concept of the Kinderfest, or children's party. These parties included games, cakes, and gifts, setting the stage for the birthday parties we know today. The tradition of blowing out candles on a cake is said to have originated in ancient Greece, where people would light candles on round cakes to symbolize the moon and its connection to the goddess Artemis. This practice eventually made its way into birthday celebrations, with the number of candles representing the age of the person.

In the 20th century, birthday celebrations became more personalized and focused on the individual. The tradition of singing the "Happy Birthday" song, written by Patty and Mildred Hill in 1893, became a staple in birthday parties worldwide. The song added a joyful and communal element to the celebrations.

Today, birthday celebrations have evolved into diverse and unique experiences. From themed parties to surprise get-togethers, people find creative ways to make their loved ones feel special on their birthdays. Social media platforms have also played a significant role in modern birthday celebrations, allowing friends and family from all over the world to send well wishes and share memories.

In conclusion, the history of birthday celebrations is a fascinating journey that spans across cultures and centuries. From ancient rituals dedicated to gods and goddesses to the modern-day tradition of celebrating individual milestones, birthdays have evolved to become a cherished part of our lives. So, the next time you blow out the candles on your cake or receive a heartfelt birthday wish, remember the rich history behind this time-honored tradition.

MARCH TOPIC: Healthy Living

By The American Academy of Pediatrics

Nutrition

The specific nutritional choices you and your youngster make are crucial. Good nutrition is essential to good health and the American Academy of Pediatrics encourages parents to think of their nutritional decisions as health decisions.

Fitness

There's no scarcity of activities that you can make available to your child, and all kids can find some form of exercise that they enjoy. If you can get your child interested in an activity like this when he's young, exercise and fitness are more likely to become a habit that lasts for many decades.

Sports

Youngsters develop sports skills in a sequence, so each sequence should be maxed out for that child. If each developmental stage is fully formed, your active child has the ability to more completely reach her maximum capacity for participation in sports.

Oral Health

Healthy mouth and teeth are an important part of a child's wellness. Adding a dental professional as a resource to your support system can provide ongoing peace of mind for your entire family.

Emotional Wellness

Children need to realize that the world is a better place because they are in it. Understanding the importance of personal contribution can serve as a source of purpose and motivation.

Sleep

Sleep is just as important to your children's development and well-being as nutrition and physical activity. The amount and quality of sleep we have can affect our safety, how alert we are, as well as our memories, moods, behavior, and learning abilities. Establishing good sleep practices while your children are young will not only benefit you, but it will help them for many years to come.

10 x 7 = 70, 16 x 12 = 192, 11 x 2 = 22, 12 x 9 = 108, 17 x 10 = 170
 120 ÷ 10 = 12, 27 + 23 = 50, 45 ÷ 9 = 5, 30 - 20 = 10, 28 - 2 = 26
 19 - 4 = 15, 27 + 3 = 30, 23 + 9 = 32, 22 + 3 = 25, 32 - 22 = 10
 48 - 23 = 25, 36 - 27 = 9, 45 ÷ 15 = 3, 20 ÷ 10 = 2, 27 + 1 = 28
 110 ÷ 10 = 11, 18 - 16 = 2, 77 ÷ 7 = 11, 7 x 3 = 21, 18 ÷ 6 = 3
